Kenny will be remembered as someone who could make you laugh. He was an easy going guy and I enjoyed when he came to supper with us. He almost always had a joke of some kind to tell. Sandy, my heart goes out to you in these difficult days ahead. May you find comfort in your many memories and in knowing how much he loved you.

Its so hard to say the right words to express my heavy heart. Your passing was not suppose to happen like this. As we know we have no ruling on this matter, the Lord Jesus Christ knows when its time that he calls you home. I know that you are not struggling anymore. May you be blessed and be with all our family in the best of health. Love you Always, Mickey Schumann Prewitt

A husband, father, grandfather, brother to all his family – one can never replace the laugh, the frown or the “nice to meet you”. Kenny left this earth way to early, but I’m sure for the loved ones who preceded him, they all wanted to be together again. It is that wish, which will be his legacy that the people who were with him at his last breath, will be together again in Our Fathers World, who was promised to all. There is a terrible void which can not be filled ever again, only remembered by all those who knew this kind giant of a gentleman. May the Lord allow Kenny to be as happy in heaven as he was in this world. Respectfully....Steve Jennetten
