sWritten by: Donna DzintarniekI dated Chris many years ago, he always had a great sense of humor! He was a male nurse and loved working with people, very caring! Then several years later he visited a club where my fiance worked , we spoke and talked about his future. He spoke of a terrific woman he had met, she was widowed and had three beautiful girls! He was so happy said he was going to marry her. Spoke of how terrific she and the girls were . Lost touch over the years, and was very happy he had touched so many lives! My deepest sympathy to your family, just found out recently. May God bless your family! Donna

Chris was always a delight to work with. His funny laughter, quick wit, along with the great stories of his family, always made for an interest time at break. He loved his daughters and was always proud of their accomplishments. He would beam with pride and joy telling me about each of them. When his first grandchild came, he was estastic with pride of being a Granddad. He was also proud of his wife, she was so smart, he would say and does a great job keeping things straight at home and work. Chris will missed be me and others that he touched by showing an insight of a great husband, father and Granddad.

I met Chris in 2004 when I became his next door neighbor. Because I work from home, I would see Chris all the time. He would always come home for lunch and in between calls. He and his family were great neighbors. Chris and I had so much interaction and it's a definite void without him here. Chris was extremely talented in many ways. He did a great job at anything he did. There are many more things about Chris that make it hard to lose such a good neighbor and friend. He will be missed by all whose lives he touched.
