Cha Cha lived in the neighborhood behind the produce market I worked at for 9 years. In that time we built a friendship out of mutual respect and kindness. She was full of life and her energy was contagious. Even when difficult times befell upon her she never gave up her values and caring nature. She helped people every day by cutting their hair, cleaning their house " even neglecting her own problems" or simply feeding me lunch! She was one of the few people I travelled nack to St Petersburg to visit. I will miss her sadly amd look forward to seeing her when my time comes to pass from this journey to the next. I Love you Chach, may you rest in peace and God Bless you in Jesus's name I pray.
