I don't even know where to start. I remember a time when I went to spend the night with her. Being hours away and very young I wanted to go home. She called my mom and when morning came I didn't want to leave. Always so patient! Then there was the time she and I were making meatloaf. Again being very young she told me to wash my hands. I went to the bathroom and washed my hands. When I came back I moved my hair. Her seeing that as dirtying my hands made me wash them again. After a few rounds of this I finally got elbow deep in meatloaf. Aunt Linda was always willing to teach, love and mourn with others. I wish she could have met the man I'm marrying. We would have laughed and loved together. Oh how I loved her laugh and her hugs. Not to mention her famous cookies! This woman was a blessing to this world and now she can watch over us all. I love you, Aunt Linda.
