Carol worked at the old Log Cabin where she was a cook and waitress, her and her husband Richard leased the Snack House and the Chicken Patio through the year. She also worked for the Skyway, Boat House, and Tippers. While working at Tippers her Son Michael became ill, and she then dedicated her time to caring for him. After losing their Son Michael Sweeney in a plane crash while on a EMS run to Kelly's Island they decided to become snowbirds; spending their winters in Florida. Before the death of her husband and permanently moving to Florida; Carol spent much of her time volunteering in the summers to raise money for the PIB EMS, which she loved doing.
