Chris, Thank for the last 6 precious years of your life you shared with me. The special connection we shared enabled me love you more as a father than a friend. I will truly miss our daily visits at Brookdale, your life stories and especially the wise advice whenever I came to you with problems, most of all. You had no idea how much I looked forward to 4:00 every day. You told me that I was the best friend you ever had, you were my best friend as well. When people would ask you who I was you would immediately answer them that I was your Guardian Angel. Well I can only hope and pray that you will now be my Guardian Angel. Thank you again for being a major part of my life. Much Love, Rosemary
