I my heart grieves for you Karen. But now the heavens are ablaze with a new angel. She is happy and enjoying a reunion with her loved ones. Please know that the heartache you feel now will slowly decrease. You will always miss her but please know that she is with you always. She is part of the wonderful, caring and loving person that I know as you....the person I call my friend. I love you and please know I am here for you as an ear, a shoulder and a heart.
