Lora Jo, Every one whose heritage traces back to Ozark County, Missouri must have two names. I saw you when you were a tiny beautiful bundle of laundry in Kentucky, I think. The thing I remember most about that visit was how proud your mother and grandmother were of you. They let me hold you. I was most pleased with that honor, because you were the first for that privilege. I am so sorry for your loss. May your memories of your mother's sick and frail ending on earth soon diminish and be replaced by memories of her during your happy fun active lives together. She was very blessed to have you for her daughter. If you ever need a shoulder or just an ear that's been where you are, please consider me a friend and cousin. We are praying for your strength and comfort. Agape', Peggy Jane
