Our thoughts and prayers are with Nancy and the family. While I only knew Frank the last few years, you learn a lot about a man being around his family and love flows freely in Frank's family. I will miss Frank and I will cherish the times we got to fish together. Jim & Liz & Hannah

The times I have broken bread with Frank and Nancy were celebrations of life and love. I am so lucky to have met their son, Lou, and to be even luckier to have met Frank (and of course his lovely bride: Nancy). The first occasion was at an Italian restaurant, with some of their other same age Italian relatives, that restaurant did not stand a chance to hold its' candle to the praises Frank had for his wife's cooking. He did not speak much during the dinner and at the end he was so appreciative of Nancy's cooking – and of course those were his receipes she made! What a fun time those two had discussing their ownership of their restaurant. The love that spilled out of every joshing he ribbed Nancy with was a road map to follow to complete a life of fulfillment and a marriage of mutual devotion surrounded with true love. Thank you Frank. "In this day and age" there are few marriages that complete the "death do us part" and again Frank and Nancy you are inspirations to all of us younger people to live by- Thank you and may you rest in peace and enjoy the fruits of heaven.
