Angi was a known fixture at the West Zone transportation compound. She had a heart of gold and would give you the shirt off her back. Opinionated, yes but you always knew where you stood with her. We were co-workers and bus operator's, and then I was her "boss lady." She's up there guys and watching over us, she may not be able to get on the radio to assist but I'm sure she is smiling down on all of her co-workers. Rest now Angi, we will miss you terribly, Hugs from your "boss lady!"

I only knew Angi for a short period of time before I got transferred to the South Zone but one couldn't help but love her. She lit up a room when it was raining outside. When I would hand out paycheck's, Angi was one of the few Names I could remember. Rest In Peace now that you are no longer in pain

When I first met Angie she was with Karl Jameson. Can you imagine meeting the two of them for the first time together?? They scared the bejesus out of me!! But I grew to love both of them. I'm sure they're trying to our volume each other up there! RIP my friend. I didn't see you often but it was a pleasure & a laugh when I did. My thoughts go out to your family.

I dont even know where to begin. Angi fiiled up a room with laughter and her voice could be heard for miles..lol . She would do anything for anyone and if you needed her she was there. We had so many great times together that I will treasure forever. She was more then a friend and co-worker she was like family. I will never forget our time together, like when we where at the fair and she took my husbands corn dog and shoved it in her mouth. Our game nights, I dont think we ever finished a game because we laughted to hard. And angi never song a song she would just would lip sysnic the words. My thoughts and prayers are with the family. Love you Angi and you will always be in my ❤️ and thoughts..RIP.

My Condolences to Angie's family, she was my friend and although I changed compounds and didn't see her like I used to we still talked, she truly will be missed especially at bidding and our classes at the beginning of our school year, she was a ray of light when she walked into a room you always knew when Angie was around, I always teased her and called her the mouth of the south cuz she could always be heard. It's still so hard to believe she's gone. She will always be remembered, may she R.I.P.... Susan Sprague

I met Angie at work from transportation west, I've known her for probably 27 years, she was one of the smartest brightest people I've ever met especially when it came to her job she was always instructing everybody over the radio how to go to a bus stop where to go to pick up a child what what other route directions to take if there was construction she knew the roads like the back of her hand she was always willing to help everybody and she was always loud and full of laughter and I can guarantee you that everyone at our place of work transportation West bus Barn is going to miss her terribly. she used to joke with me about being married to Mark the chief mechanic of the shop because my husband was also a mechanic of the shop and she always would say well she did better because her husband was the chief mechanic and we just would laugh all the time about it we love you Angie you would definitely be missed rest in peace. love Terry and John Taitano
