I was his Corpsman at 2nd Reg. I had just gotten to the unit and Salinas would always see me at the barracks (we called them the bricks) and he would tell me a joke everytime he saw me. I got to the point where I wanted to always have one ready for him. Then we went to the field and he passed away in a place where I couldn't save him. He will always be one of my Marines and I will always greet each new day with a smile and a joke to keep everyone on their toes. I'll see you in Heaven and I'll be waiting for your punch line brother.

My dearest nephew, Oh how my heart aches. Never imagined having to say goodbye so soon. You were so full of life & it was just beginning. The smile on your face your last visit sits constantly in the front of my mind. Its so hard not to question God as to why he called you home so soon. He always takes the best. We are so proud of the young man you become and lord knows the void you left behind will never be filled. Though our hearts are broken we take comfort in knowing you touched so many lives in such short time. Your truly amazing nephew. I will never forget your voice or smile. you will forever remain alive in our hearts, until next time, shuffle on. Love your aunt Justa To my sister and brother, there are no words to take away your pain or even comfort you. I can't even imagine how you feel as parents. though your baby boy is no longer here he will always be half a step behind. He will always be with you. You did an amazing job raising Daniel. He was just as proud to have you as his parents as you were to have him as your son. That family bond was everything. He will truly be missed and forever loved. I am here for you. we will get through this together. I love you all.

I love and miss you so much son, I never knew such pain until god called you away. You made us so proud to be your parents. Our lives will never be the same. I know they say things happen for a reason but im not sure I will ever understand why you were taken so soon. You will forever be in my heart my sweet boy. Until we meet again, may you rest in paradise. I love you always. Love your mom
