Alfredo was my stepfather but more than that he was my biggest Hero and one of the most special bonds if not the most special bond I've ever had, he was eccentric, charismatic and exuberant, He was more family to me than most of what I've ever known to be, he was someone I admired and once literally looked up to, there was no denying the love, respect, and happiness we felt when we were around each other, I'll miss this love every damn day until we meet again. you were the man I wanted to walk me down the aisle... you stepped up to the plate, and never left my side even when my world was falling apart I knew it was you that always had my back, you were the best father and grandfather to my children that We could've been gifted, I was lucky to have this man in my life, I will always be proud of you and I give credit to the person I turned out to be because of this man if I didn't have him, I wouldn't be the same human. I love you daddio, you did right by all your kids... I hope you know all of this.

I will always remember him being such a respectful man. He would always greet me with open arms and if I didn't have the kids would always ask where they were at and how we was doing. The best thing about him though was how much love he gave my sister and the kids. 💜 he will always be missed! And he will always live on through his kids!

Alfredo was the most fun loving caring hard working family man. His smile was so contagious. He was like my big brother even though he's my cousin. We did fun things growing up in Houma and all these special memories will always stay in my heart. I am still in shocked and can't believe he's gone. He will never be forgotten ❤️

Alfredo came to my home to help after Hurricane Ian. He had done excellent stucco work for us previously and we called him to do our drywall work after our home and everything in it was lost in 4 feet of water. Alfredo was so kind and took the time to really offer sympathy and respect for all that we lost. By the time we were done talking it had been decided that Alfredo could and would do all the work to put our home back together. He was a kind and generous man and he will be missed. Prayers of strength and healing to Dana and their children 🧑❤️

Alfredo was a competitor in business. But such opposite ends of the trade; That we became associates and friends. Alfredo ran a far larger Co. than I do now... He Wore the many hats well and Integrity was a given with him. His family was a Priority. He had Them Straight. And Could Set aside the day and business like a newspaper. We were always busy and took great Pride as Masons do. I wish I'd had more private time with Dana the kids and him. Last things I said Was "Don't Burn out!" The Hurricane damage was overwhelming on many levels In Our trades! His Projects; Like Him will Remain Straight And True.. Best, Rest My friend RJ Towne

I've been very much looking forward to Alfredo being my son-in-law. Even though him and Dana were not married yet I still considered him my son-in-law. It took a while for him to earn my respect but and Trust but ultimately he succeeded in a beautiful way. He was a good man took care of my daughter and my grandchildren which I could never thank him enough for that. He will truly be missed, rest in peace bro. I love you
