Dear bestie girl, oh how I love and miss you so so much ❤️😭. We spent everyday together for the last 5 years.. and much more before then. I'm so so so glad you came back into my life. From day 1 we were inseparable the bond we had was incredible and I'll never be able to love anyone else the same way I loved you. Being able to be there for your son's birth my god son, was the bestest day of my life. The tears I cried that day meant so much to me seeing your handsome son be born and watching you turn into a mother was the greatest gift you gave to me. I'll never forget it I pinky promise. I'm so glad I got to call you my sister your laugh, brightened up most of my days. I don't think I would have made it this far without you by my side. I miss your voice I miss just calling and talking to you for five seconds and laughing or talking our crap and me constantly asking why your location was off and where you were at, and you saying "my location is on, or I turned it off and me yelling turn it back on so I know where your at and your safe. I miss you sending me cute funny pictures of Isaiah in his little outfits or you telling me about his mile stones, and us crying cause he was tryna hold his bottle and we weren't ready for that yet. I miss you coming over for no reason and Jesse yelling at us because we were being too loud or he was annoyed that you would show up unannounced but he knew as much as he whined about it it didn't matter cause my house was your house, I miss laying in my bed and watching movies btw we never finished our show 😭 and I don't think I ever will now or maybe I will cause I know you'll be watching it with me and we can see how it ends together. I love you. I'll always remember you, the kids will too cause you were the best aunt they ever had and they love you so much. I loved watching my camera and seeing you with the kids doing what you could to help me out. Always being there it's just who you were such a good person and I'll never forget it. The little car rides we took just to listen to our music and sometimes cry and other times just vibe out. You coming to see me at work just cause you were bored and sometimes I begged you to come see me so I could see your sweet face and as much as you hated that drive just like me you came all this way to come see me.. something I'll never forget. I love you and Isaiah will always know the best parts, and things about you I'll make sure of it. I'll show him everything about you our photos our videos. I'll tell him how much you adored him and was always about him. I love you Lexi and don't ever forget it. RIP MY OTHER HALF. TIL we see eachother again. 🙏👉
