“ My sweet Shauna Buggie... I can't believe your gone. I've attempted to do this for days and ended up in tears or ripping thru boxes trying to find pictures or laughing so hard I couldn't breathe. How do I saw goodbye to someone who was one of my closest and dearest friends for pretty much half of my life? How do I say good bye to such a special person I've spent so many amazing unforgettable memories with, we were there for most of each others best and worst times. We shared a bond that I will never share with another. I will never stop remembering you and I will never stop missing you! I wish I could have seen you, laughed with you cried with you one last time. I pray your in a better place and I pray you are free of all pain. I love you buggie! You'll always be my best friend! Rest easy

“ Shauna, we had some fun times together. I will always remember the times we spent together. The late night drives in your soccer mom Escalade, trying to do the “Superman” dance in heels , always borrowing your clothes and make up because you had the best collections, laughing until our bellies hurt, so many laughs! I’m sure you’re up there with your dad right now cracking jokes with him and laughing. Spending so much time with you and your sweet baby Cameron I will never forget the memories and time we did have together. Rest in the sweetest peace Shauna Mai apple pie You will be very missed. Love your friend, Katie
